

Practical 2

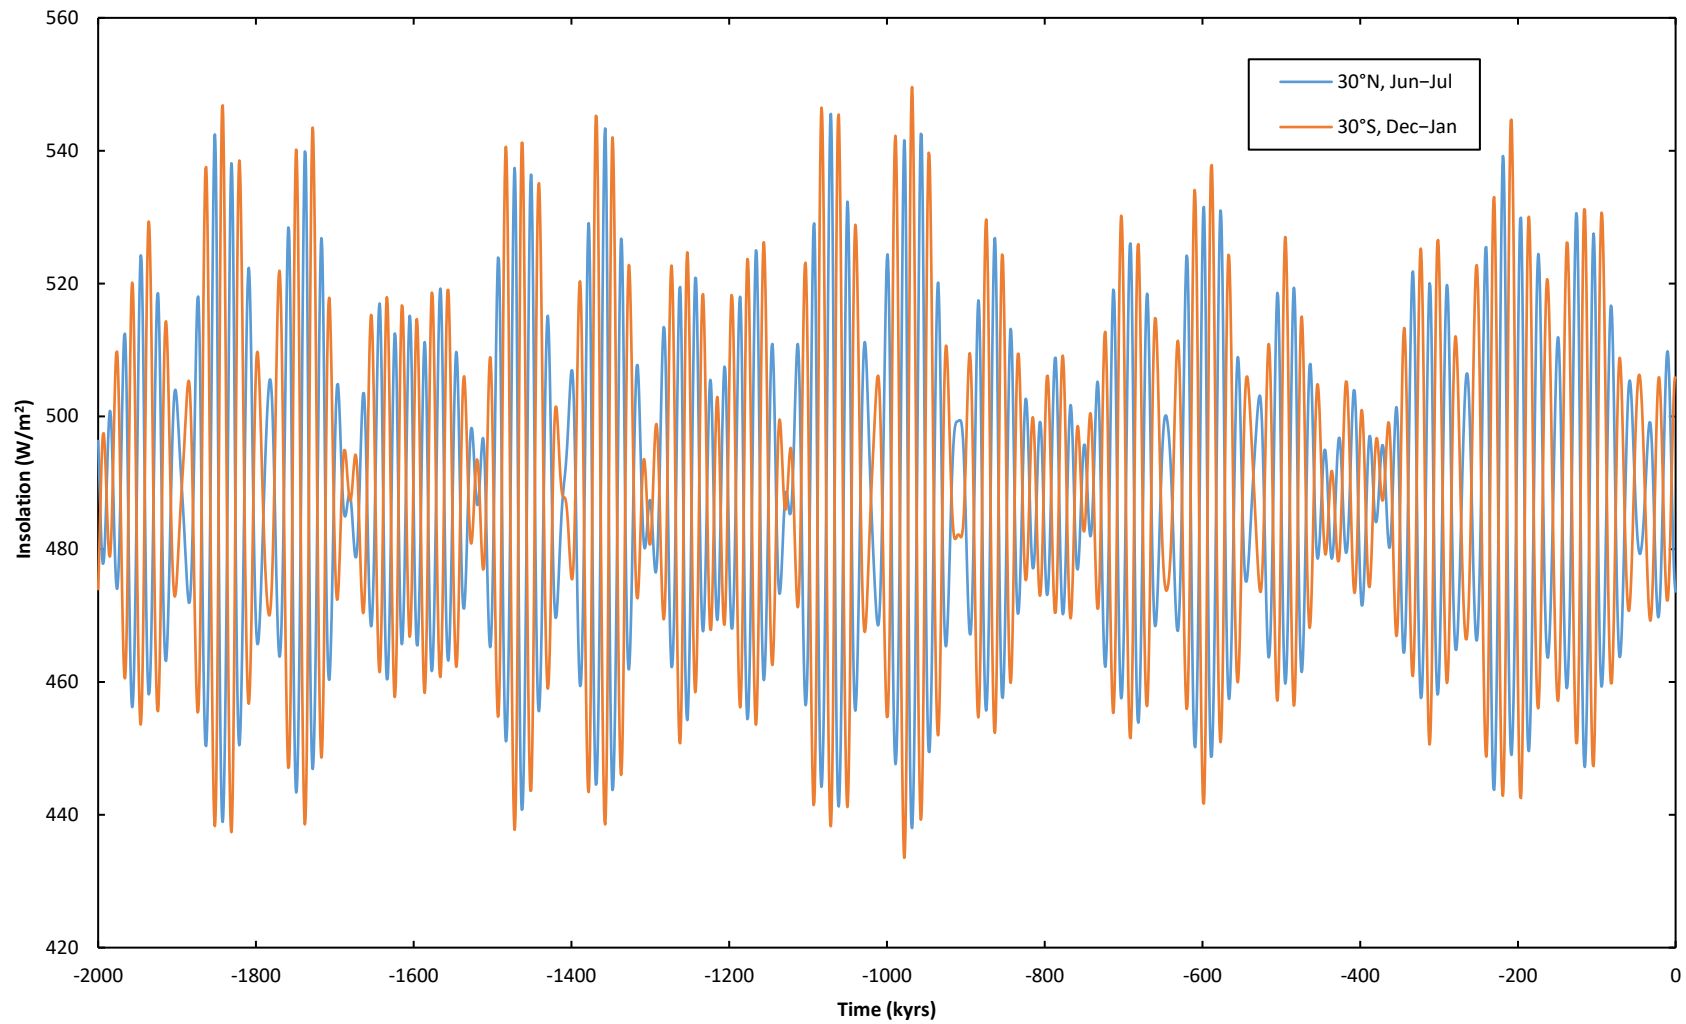

Figure 2D. Insolation at 30° North and 30° South during June-July and December-January, respectively, over the last two million years. The periods of 100 kyr and 400 kyr of eccentricity can clearly be seen in the changing amplitude of both lines.